

2nd Dutch Development Economics PhD Workshop

October 24th
Wageningen University

Time	Presenter name	University	Presentation title	Session chair	Location
9.15 - 09.45		Walk-in
09.45 - 10.00		Welcome
10.00 - 10.40	Jamleck Oroko	Wageningen University	To what extent are ex-ante valuations of agricultural innovations reliable? What we learn from farmers' willingness to pay for equal single and multiple peril crop insurance	Yannick Markhof
10.40 - 11.20	Samin Nikkhah Bahrami	Utrecht University	On Targeting: Predictors of Expected Consumer Welfare from Catastrophic Drought
11.20 - 11.50		Coffee & tea
11.50 - 12.30	Elisa van Dongen	University of Groningen	On the relationship between anti-poverty transfers and the belief in one's own capabilities: Theory and evidence from a framed field experiment	Yannick Markhof
12.30 - 13.15		Lunch
		Poster presentations
	Tiruwork Arega Tadesse	United Nations University – MERIT	Impacts of Electricity Tariff Reform on Energy Insecurity Experiences: Evidence from Ethiopia
	Anandita Bardia	Tinbergen Institute	The Impact of a Conditional Cash Transfer on Investment in Daughters and Change in Parental Attitude: Evidence from Karnataka
13.15 - 14.15	Anne Lieke Ebbers	Radboud University Nijmegen	Legal Reforms and Child Marriage: A Qualitative and Trend Analysis of Marriage Laws and Their Impact on Societal Norms and Behaviours.	Elisa van Dongen	C0226 (2nd floor), Forum, Droevendaalsesteeg 2
	Alexandra Geis	University of Groningen	Rainfall Shocks and Children's Nutritional Security: The Mediating Role of Women's Empowerment
	Clare Nakimpi	Wageningen University	Enhancing Farmer Participation in Biomass Supply Chains: Insights from a Discrete Choice Experiment in Uganda
	Natalia Polakova	Tilburg University	Leveraging Community Knowledge for Credit Distribution
	Mia Ravbar	Utrecht University	Farmers' Responses to Adverse Weather Shocks
14.15 - 14.55	Jet Wildeman	Radboud University Nijmegen	Mobile internet as an empowerment tool for young women in sub-Saharan Africa? The effect of 3G coverage on child marriage and teen pregnancy	Elisa van Dongen
14.55-15.35	Abdelrahman Nagy	United Nations University – MERIT	Can economic interventions raise female employment when social norms limit it? Experimental evidence from child care subsidies and employment services in Egypt.
15.35 - 16.05		Coffee & tea
16.05 - 16.45	Else-Marie van den Herik	Tinbergen Institute	Minerals on the Move: Mineral Trade and Armed Conflict in Eastern Congo	Elisa van Dongen
16.45 - 17.25	Juan Segnana	Tilburg University	When close is too close: effects of a refugee camp expansion on hosts' normative beliefs
17.25 - 18.00	End workshop + instructions dinner + wrap-up
18.30 - 21.00		Dinner			Foodbar Zilvr, Herenstraat 47

2nd Dutch Development Economics PhD Workshop

October 25th
Wageningen University

08.00-09.45	Breakfast and check-out	Hotel WICC, Lawickse Allee 9
10.30	Workshop	Leeuwenborch, Hollandseweg 1
10.30 - 11.30	Workshop 1	Amal Ahmad	Preparing for the Academic Job Market	office 3114
		Erwin Bulte	The Economics Publication Process & Writing an Effective Response Letter	office 3110
		Francesco Cecchi	From Research Idea to Empirical Strategy, From Empirical Strategy to Story.	office 3111
		Koos Gardebroek	Machine Learning in Economics	room 1011
		Esther Gehrke	Research Designs with Observational Data	office 2115
		Maarten Voors	Writing a Research Proposal	t.b.d.
11.30-12.00	Coffee break
12.00-13.00	Workshop 2	Amal Ahmad	Preparing for the Academic Job Market	office 3114
		Erwin Bulte	The Economics Publication Process & Writing an Effective Response Letter	office 3110
		Francesco Cecchi	From Research Idea to Empirical Strategy, From Empirical Strategy to Story.	office 3111
		Koos Gardebroek	Machine Learning in Economics	room 1011
		Esther Gehrke	How to position yourself in the market/how to build a CV	office 2115.
		Maarten Voors	Writing a Research Proposal	t.b.d.
13.00-14.00	Wrap-up PhD Workshop + Lunch	Canteen, Leeuwenborch, Hollandseweg 1		